Automatic In-Plant Flexographic Label Printing Equipment

Quality, durability and simplicity have been the Sohn trademark for more than 40 years. We continue to be the leader in flexographic label makers.

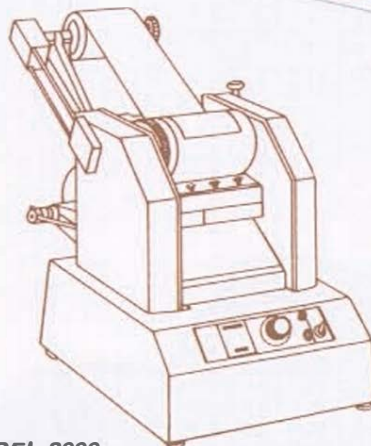

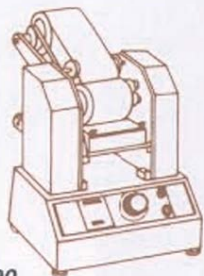

Sohn equipment is designed for versatility, fast set up and easy operation. Each model prints on many types of label materials including pressure-sensitive, gummed or plain paper. Labels can be made from high gloss, litho, custom colored, fluorescent, foil or acetate roll stock.

Label length is automatically determined and butt-cut. No mechanical adjustments are required for label length.

Our single-color units consistently produce any quantity of economical, professional quality labels instantly. The capability of printing the exact number of labels you need eliminates expensive and obsolete inventory. Ingredient and product changes can be made quickly and easily using inexpensive inserts.

All of Sohn's label makers are engineered for dependable performance. They are constructed of aircraft quality aluminum side plates, cast aluminum housings, hardened steel shafts and dies, teflon-coated parts and fuse protected modular electronic components, including a predetermining automatic shut-off counter with precision PM DC motor as standard.
